

Japs Want Ships To Send Food For Starving Outfits

(By The Associated Press)

Manila, Aug. 23—Conquered Japan and the conquering Allies will formally end the war August 31 by signing the surrender document on Tokyo bay aboard the superbattleship Missouri, which only a month ago was hurling 16-inch shells into the Japanese homeland.

General MacArthur announced these final details today, while his headquarters disclosed actual capitulation in the field is proceeding in advance of the official ceremony.

Surrender of several thousand Japanese in Northern Luzon was arranged yesterday despite "adamant" opposition of their commander, and similar negotiations were moving ahead on Mindanao and Cebu.

Japan meanwhile appealed for permission to send ships to ill and starving garrisons on Marcus island and "various isolated islands in the south," adding that food on Marcus, 1,200 miles southeast of Tokyo, would be exhausted in two more days.

Visit Prison Camps

Tokyo also messaged MacArthur's headquarters that Japanese Red Cross workers aided by Swiss and Swedish legations are preparing to visit Japan's seven major prisoner-of-war camps Friday to assist in evacuating prisoners and civil internees to embarkation points. Whether the missions actually will transport prisoners to the ports or merely plan their later transportation was not clear.

MacArthur himself will land at Tokyo's Atsugi airport Tuesday, weather permitting, along with thousands of airborne occupation troops. On the same day, marines and sailors will occupy the great Yokosuka naval base in Tokyo bay. Later—the date was not designated—thousands of troops will land in the Sagami bay occupation zone.

The Japanese have been ordered, meantime, to evacuate all key occupation areas, to disarm their ships, all coastal guns and other defenses in the initial occupation zone, and to surrender all ships and submarines at sea to Allied ports.

Imperial headquarters again today radioed to MacArthur that Japanese were encountering serious difficulties in China due to "the activities of irregular forces, bandits and disturbances of mobs." It made a similar report four days ago. MacArthur replied that he had forwarded the complaint to China.

To Release 32,000

"In spite of our utmost efforts to avoid the calamities of war, the situation in China has not been improved," said today's message. It asked MacArthur to reconsider his order disarming the Japanese army in China.

One of the occupation forces' first acts in Japan will be the release of an officially estimated 32,000 prisoners of war, detained in Nippon.

Approximately 100 American Red Cross workers are attached to the initial landing force, as are Australian Red Cross and Australian Comforts Fund representatives. They will administer to an estimated 7,000 Americans, 14,000 British, 5,000 to 8,000 Australians, 5,000 Dutch and 1,000 Canadians in Japanese PW camps.

Adm. William F. Halsey, Jr.'s Third Fleet conducted a big air show within a few hours steaming time of Japan yesterday. More than 1,000 carrier planes from the U. S. and British fleets participated.

Exact 60,000

Japan's Domei agency—which has broadcast most of the occupation news hours or day ahead of MacArthur's announcements—said the initial occupation force would be 50,000 to 60,000. It also reiterated that initial landings, from the air, would be made on Sunday, although MacArthur's radioed instructions to the Nipponese government indicated first occupation forces would fly in on Tuesday with him.

On Okinawa, 750 miles from Tokyo, 2,600 American fliers were prepared for the greatest aerial operation of the war—the landing of thousands of occupation troops on Atsugi's airfield, only 20 miles from Tokyo.

All occupation troops will be fully equipped for combat, as a precaution, whereas Japanese gendarmes who will police the occupation area must be stripped to side arms, MacArthur told Nippon.

MacArthur instructed members of the Japanese Imperial General Staff to be at Atsugi to receive him at 6 a. m. "O" (occupation) Day (5 p. m. Monday, Eastern War Time) and to be prepared to settle immediate occupation problems. He did not state, however, the time of his arrival.

At about the same time, Marines and blue jackets will land at Yokosuka, only 15 miles from Atsugi.

Truck Driver Is Caught After Crash

The automobile of John Klinefelter, Baltimore street, was considerably damaged Wednesday evening shortly after the fire alarm sounded when a large van truck of the Novick Transfer company of Winchester, Va., struck the machine while it was parked. The truck did not stop but witnesses took the license number and the truck was stopped by state police in Fayetteville.

Scratches on the side of the truck completed the identification. The operator, Marcus B. Allen of Winchester later was permitted to continue after making satisfactory arrangements about the damage to the Klinefelter car.

ROUTE 30 TO BE IMPROVED IN BIG STATE PROGRAM

Lincoln highway improvements form a part of Pennsylvania's $100,000,000 road building and improvement program and the work will be undertaken west of Gettysburg with sections in most serious need of repair to receive first attention. John U. Shroyer, state highways secretary, told The Gettysburg Times this morning.

Mr. Shroyer said that because the highway from Gettysburg to Chambersburg is in reasonably good condition no work is to be done on that 25-mile stretch during the first year of post-war work. More critical points farther west are on the list for first attention, he said.

When the improvement of the highway from Gettysburg to Chambersburg is undertaken, it will be in accord with established department policies of widening good concrete roads with concrete shoulders or recovering faulty concrete highways with blacktop in the widening process.

No Re-location Here

"Work on Route 30 (Lincoln Highway) west from Gettysburg will include widening of the existing road where necessary," Mr. Shroyer asserted. Asked how this ties in with plans of several years ago for the relocation of a section of the highway from McKnightstown to Mt. Newman, the highway secretary declared:

"I don't know of any particular plans for re-location. It costs entirely too much money. There are requests on my desk now for highway improvements that would cost a billion and a half dollars but we have only a half billion to spend in the next five years."

An Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg today on the plans of the state highway department tells of preparations being made for road improvements in the Pittsburgh area by the state to cost millions of dollars. It quotes Mr. Shroyer as saying of that phase of the work: "We are confident when our work has been completed Pittsburgh will have one of the finest approaches of any city in the country."

First Work on Route 30

Lincoln highway conditions at Chambersburg are to receive special attention, the dispatch states and proper methods of correcting conditions east and west of McConnellsburg also are being studied.

This statement was made of Lincoln highway projects which will be the first to be undertaken along Route 30: "From Bedford to Schellsburg, a distance of 17 miles, the highway will be modernized and west of Stoyestown for four miles bad alignment will be corrected."

"We also plan to resurface Route 30 east of Wilkinsburg, where several rough portions exist as far as Greensburg."

Herbert and his twin brother, T-5 Harvey, entered service at the same time, were assigned to the same outfit and went overseas together. Harvey is still in Germany.

More Beef, Veal, Ham For Civilians

There were more glad tidings for the housewife in Secretary of Agriculture Anderson's announcement that the army set-aside of beef, veal and hams have been indefinitely suspended and that, in consequence, there will be more beef, veal and ham for civilian dinner tables.

Production and Marketing Administration, USDA, points out that just now there will be as much more of these meats as the family ration points will buy. But the relaxation of army requirements is a further step in the direction of the ration days of the autumn previously indicated as possible by the secretary.

The majority of family dinner tables are still to wait a while for that pork chop, whether it be loin or shoulder. The army is continuing its demands on pork loins, shoulders, manufactured pork and lard to some extent.

ENTERS PLEA IN MANSLAUGHTER CASE; INDICT 3

A plea of "no defense" was entered in court this morning by Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., local counsel for John J. Shenk, Jr., York truck driver, charged with involuntary manslaughter in the deaths of two Adams countians in a traffic crash at Bonnevillie early in May.

Under regular court procedure, Shenk will be called for sentence on Saturday, September 1. Presentation of the plea this morning made it unnecessary to take the case before the grand jury.

Grand jurors returned true bills of indictment at noon today against three defendants but ignored a hit and run driving charge brought by Borough Officer Clark Staley against N. E. Shultz, Cashtown. The costs of the Shultz case were placed on the county.

Defendants indicted this morning included G. R. Jacoby and Charles B. Beaver, Jr., both of whom were arrested in Littlestown by former Police Chief H. S. Roberts on drunken driving charges; and Philip McCaffrey, Littlestown, who was indicted on a charge of receiving stolen goods brought by state police.

20 Accounts Confirmed

The grand jury resumed deliberations at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. District Attorney J. Francis Yake said only two cases remain for consideration. The court appointed John D. Settle, Seven Stars, foreman of the grand jury. Twenty-four had been summoned for grand jury duty but only 18 served, the six others having been excused.

Judge W. C. Sheely presided over today's court session with Associate Judges A. Dale Knouse and J. Price Oyler sharing the bench with him.

Accounts in 20 estates were confirmed this morning but exceptions were announced in the account of E. W. Hartman, administrator of the estate of the late Robert S. Hahn of Franklin township. Edgar K. Markley, Esq., was named auditor to dispose of the exceptions.

Otherwise only routine business came before court this morning. Hearings will be held in desertion and non-support cases Friday and the August term of court will convene next Monday morning.

Fire Destroys Large Garage And 15 Motor Vehicles Last Night

Fire, the origin of which was undetermined at noon today, gutted the E. L. Schriver Auto Sales and Service station and garage, at the corner of York and North Stratton streets, opposite St. James Lutheran church, Wednesday evening and consumed eleven automobiles and four trucks before it was brought under control shortly after midnight.

The loss is estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000.

Fire Chief James A. Aumen, of the Gettysburg fire department, and Jack Arms, from the state fire marshal's office, Harrisburg, had not completed their investigation at noon today and refused to hazard an opinion as to the cause of the conflagration.

Four Other Fire Companies Called

E. L. Schriver, proprietor of the business, said that Morris De Simon, 30-year-old mechanic, was repairing one of Schriver's trucks with an electric welder Wednesday evening and that the fire broke out on the opposite side of the truck.

The alarm for the blaze was turned in about 10:08 o'clock Wednesday night and four county fire companies were summoned to assist the local department.

Edward Culver, manager of the Service Supply company, York street, not quite a block from the burned garage, was enroute to his home and is believed to be the first person, other than De Simon, to discover the blaze.

Flames Spread Rapidly

Culver said that as he reached St. James church he saw a "very small" blaze underneath the chassis of a truck that De Simon was working on. "It looked so small that I was not unduly alarmed at the moment, believing that the mechanic could extinguish it," Culver told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times.

"The next moment," he said, "the garage employe ran out of the building and shouted 'Fire, fire, someone call the fire department.'"

Culver ran to the Elks club, the nearest phone, to turn in the alarm. As he reached the club building Cyril Staub was emerging and Culver told him to turn in the alarm. Culver then ran back to the garage and flames were "leaping through the roof," he said.

Interior An Inferno

When Gettysburg firemen arrived the interior of the garage was a raging inferno. Thick tongues of flame were leaping from the front entrance of the garage, over the open driveway area and then up the second floor front of the structure.

Fire was spitting from every opening in the side of the building and the interior was a solid mass of flames.

Within a matter of a few minutes local firemen had three streams of water pouring into the inferno. Gasoline tanks on motor vehicles inside exploded and tongues of flame spurted several hundred feet into the air, sending clouds of sparks over a wide area and threatening nearby structures.

Prevent Spreading

The local fire-fighters, battling against overwhelming odds, poured three more water leads into the fire. One lead was sent to the east side of the building to prevent the fire from spreading to the Herbert Oyler residence which adjoins the garage and the S. G. Spangler home and other residences adjoining. Another gusher of water was turned onto the wooden dwellings, one occupied by Clement Aughinbaugh across Race Horse alley in the rear while other firemen kept a close watch on the C. M. Wolf grain warehouse and coal and lumber yards and buildings.

On several occasions firemen were driven from the large windows of the garage where they were pouring water onto the blaze, as huge tongues of flame leaped outward and skyward as gas tanks burst, adding more fuel to the inferno.

The Fairfield, New Oxford, Biglerville and Cashtown fire companies responded to the alarm.

Crowds Hinder Firemen

Fire hoses were plugged to water hydrants in front of the garage, on center square, at the corner of East Middle and South Stratton, at the St. James church corner and other hydrants nearby.

Twelve large leads were pouring water. Several of the leads fed auxiliary lines through a "Y."

The immediate vicinity of the burning garage was soon packed with several thousand spectators. They jammed the sidewalks and spilled out into York and Stratton streets, at many times hindering the firemen in their struggle to quell the fire.

State and borough police and some fire police tried in vain to keep the crowds at a safe distance. But almost as soon as the spectators retreated at the order of police they would surge back into the area, interfering with the shifting of the various water hoses to vantage points by the firemen.

Japan Tells Folks How To Act During Occupation

(By The Associated Press)
Rules by which the Japanese people will remain "unperturbed" and calm when for the first time in their history occupation forces land on the home islands next week, and under which they will greet their conquerors, were laid down today by the Japanese home ministry's police bureau.

The Japanese Domei news agency in a broadcast recorded by the FCC said the rules of conduct included:

(1) Occupation will be carried out peacefully with no violence, hence the people must refrain from causing "unnecessary confusion."

(2) The people must remain calm and not move about while Japanese forces are being withdrawn so as not to hamper the movement.

(3) No anxiety over Japanese order need be felt since Japanese police and gendarmes will remain on duty.

Ignore Rumors

(4) The people should disregard "childish rumors" and place "absolute reliance in the above authorities."

(5) The people through their village heads will be notified of all developments.

Rules of conduct after occupation included:

(1) The people should "refrain from individually approaching the occupation troops. However, when approached by a member of the occupation troops the people should display courtesy and the proper attitude."

To prevent misunderstanding through difference of language, it was suggested that all neighborhood associations and villages be equipped with English-speaking persons.

The people should not abandon their homes and should not become "agitated" as to means of travel as the occupation forces will not take over transportation facilities indiscriminately.

"In any event, the people must not resort to fistfights or display any violence."

BLAW-KNOX CUTS FORCE

The Blaw-Knox company, York, beginning next Monday will eliminate its night shift of approximately 800 employees, news reports from York state. The plant, owned by the U. S. Navy and operated by the company whose name it bears, made Bofors guns before the end of the war in the Pacific. The plant, according to the York reports, will continue to make materials for the navy but on a reduced scale in keeping with peace-time needs.

This week the Blaw-Knox plant is operating on two 40-hour shifts. It had been working on two 56-hour shifts with approximately 2,200 employees.

The York Safe and Lock company, which at one time operated the plant taken over by the Blaw-Knox company, in addition to its own plant, has laid off approximately 1,000 employees since the end of the war with the Japs, according to unofficial reports in York. Company officials, however, would furnish no figures to York newsmen and they declined to comment on the report of the layoff.

A number of Gettysburg and Adams county residents have been employed at both the Blaw-Knox and the York Safe and Lock plants.

NAB 118 WHO ROBBED DINING CAR CUSTOMERS

New York, Aug. 23 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation announced today 118 men throughout the country had been arrested in connection with a dining car racket which cost two railroads more than $100,000 over a period of a year.

All of the men apprehended, E. E. Conroy, special agent in charge of the New York FBI office, said, were stewards, waiters or cooks employed by the New York Central and Erie railroads on several of their best trains.

The scheme, based on manipulation of food and liquor checks, cost the railroads as much as $600 on a single trip, Conroy said, adding that the victims were servicemen, elderly women and persons unfamiliar with car routine.

Conroy said these three methods of manipulating food checks were used:

Trick Orders

Waiters would take a food order orally and then fail to submit a written check. This method was used principally on elderly persons and inexperienced travelers.

Waiters would leave blank food order checks on tables, face down or under a water pitcher and not supply a pencil. This would discourage a diner from writing out an order. When the meal was ended, the waiter would make a pretense at writing out the order and collect for the meal in cash, pocketing the money.

Waiters would present a used food check, already paid by another passenger. The food order would be taken orally. When the time came for payment, a check previously used to purchase an identical meal was presented for payment.

Government meal tickets, issued to servicemen, also were used by the stewards to cover their activities, Conroy said, giving this sample:

Stewards Key Men

When a serviceman presented a government order the waiter or steward would make it out for the highest priced meal even though the sailor or soldier had the least expensive meal on the menu. By doing this, the steward could cover meals served to other passengers for which no checks were issued.

Conroy said the dining car stewards were the key men in the racket and split the money with waiters and cooks.

Evidence of the scope of the activities of the train crews, Conroy said, was obtained by FBI agents who worked as stewards with the crews on runs of several trains, including the Ohio State Limited and the Knickerbocker.

Conroy said the men were arrested here and in Newark, Buffalo and Chicago.

Mrs. Lther C. Plank, of Table Rock, returned recently from a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Slaughter, of Haddon Heights, N. J.

Mrs. E. A. Meyer, of Washington, D. C., will be an over-night guest this evening of Mrs. Richard C. Walton, of Biglerville, while her daughter, Miss Patricia Meyer, who will accompany her here, will spend the night with Miss Barbara Kleinfelter.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Plank, of Baltimore, were guests today of Mr. Plank's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Luther C. Plank, of Table Rock.

John A. Cline, S. 1/C, son of Edward Cline, Gardner's R. 2, recently returned to San Francisco, Calif., after spending a 30-day furlough at his home.

It marked the first time he was home in two years. He wears the Pacific Theatre of operations ribbon with four battle stars.

He entered the service May 10, 1943, and received training at Bainbridge, Md., and Norfolk, Va., before going to California. He was at sea 20 months.

He has two brothers in the service. Pfc. Dale E. Cline with the 101st Airborne Division now in France, and S. 1/C Thurston E. Cline somewhere in the Pacific.

A special meeting of the Bendersville community fire company will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the community hall. All members are requested to attend as reports from the fair held recently will be given.

OPA Will Retain Most Pre-War Prices

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The OPA says: "You'll pay for the new consumer durable goods—like washing machines—the price you would have paid before the war, or very little higher."

This was the rule laid down today by the agency to keep prices from getting out of hand. It was one of the most important statements to come from the government in the whole rush to change over to peace.

OPA Boss Chester Bowles said that at pre-war prices for the new durable goods, manufacturers and everyone else down to the retail stores "can look forward to excellent profits based on a high sales volume."

In its first postwar pricing of consumer durable goods OPA ordered 1942 ceilings on household washing machines, ironers and aluminum kitchen ware.

Will Dedicate Plane To Dead War Writers

Fresno, Calif., Aug. 23 (AP)—A Black Widow night fighter plane will be dedicated tomorrow to the memory of the 32 war correspondents who lost their lives covering Pacific and European fighting.

Maj. Gen. Willis H. Hale, commanding the Fourth Air Force, will christen the plane "The Fourth Estate," at the ceremony at nearby Hammer Field.

A special citation will be read for each correspondent who lost his life, and for five others missing or prisoners of war.

Among those to be named were Asahel Bush, Bede Irvin, Harry Crockett, Joseph Morton and D. Witt Hancock, all of the Associated Press, and Ernie Pyle.

Songs for a Better World

We were sitting around the embers of Ed Crumple's barbecue last Saturday night, finishing our beer and hot dogs, while Ed strummed the guitar . . . picking out old, friendly songs.

Southern melody—they all speak a common language of the heart. . . bind folks together . . . help us forget our grudges.

From where I sit, music can help to make the whole world kin. Maybe we ought to have a lot more of it . . . informal sings around the fire, and in the home. And it's sure true that a mellow glass of beer fits into the picture. It just naturally goes with that kind of music.

TAKES THREE KIDS TO CAMP TO AVERT AWOL

Camp Lee, Va., Aug. 23 (AP)—Three personal problems of a Philadelphia private who had to take his domestic life to camp with him have been solved by the army—temporarily.

The "problems"—three smudged-faced little girls including twins—arrived here late yesterday after a train ride and a hitch hike from their home with their father, Pvt. Louis Price, 30, of 321 Winston street, Philadelphia.

The private, who was due back at the camp this morning, explained to army officials that he had been unable to find any social agency that would care for his daughters while their mother was hospitalized, but that his corporal told him by telephone to "come here anyway and bring the kids with you."

After a train ride from Philadelphia to Richmond and a 25-mile hitch-hike ride to the camp, the three children, Marion, 9, and Sheila and Dinah, three-year-old twins, made themselves at home in their father's orderly room where they were greeted by Brigadier General George A. Horkan, camp commander, and entertained by Price's buddies. The general told Private Price that Camp Lee "always takes care of its own. We are particularly sympathetic to your case and will take care of your children until other provisions can be made."

Food and beds were prepared for the children by WAC technicians and grey ladies of the Red Cross at the order of the commander and shortly after retreat the three tired little girls, scrubbed and fed, were sound asleep in army beds at the camp hospital, only a block from their father's basic training company.

CROWD CHEERS GEN. DEGAULLE

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—A crowd of spectators ignored a mild summer shower today to applaud Gen. Charles de Gaulle as he moved his headquarters from the White House to nearby official guest quarters in Blair house.

The president of the provisional French government who arrived yesterday, waved to the crowd as he mounted the steps to his new headquarters shortly after 9 a. m. He was expected to return to the executive mansion during the day to resume talks with President Truman.

Accompanying the French general were George T. Summerlin, State Departmental protocol chief, and Brig. Gen. Sumner Waite of the U. S. Army.

The statement yesterday of a British foreign office commentator that British and Chinese troops would administer French Indo-China immediately after its liberation because France currently was not "in a physical position" to do so was believed to have boosted Indo-China to a major discussion topic on the Truman-De Gaulle agenda.

De Gaulle is expected to ask Mr. Truman to outline the United States view on the potentially-troublesome matter.

Sugar Rationing Remains This Year

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The current ration of five pounds of sugar every four months will be continued for the remainder of the year.

OPA, announcing this formally today, said Sugar Stamp 38 in Ration Book 4, good for five pounds, will be validated September 1 and remain good through December 31. The current stamp, 36, will not be good after August 31.

Stamp 37 is not being validated, OPA said, because many persons by mistake last year, mailed 37 to local boards to obtain special canning allowances.

Price Administrator Chester Bowles described sugar supplies as "very tight," with no prospect for improvement this year.

Troubled Japan Had Used Atomic Bomb

With 38th Division, Northern Luzon, P. I., Aug. 23 (AP)—"Have you heard about the atomic bombs being used in the war?" American officers asked Japanese Lt. Col. Shizume Sushimi at a mountain surrender conference.

"Where did we use it against you?" the enemy officer asked eagerly.

"You must have your signals crossed," one American told him. "We were the ones who used it."

The Japanese colonel seemed dumbfounded. Maj. Richard Jeffers, Terre Haute, Ind., related, and told the Americans he understood Japan had such a weapon nearly perfected when he left the homeland.

TWO NATIONS SEEK HONGKONG

By SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, Aug. 23 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer declared today the Chinese and British governments are negotiating on the subject of whose forces shall occupy Hongkong and accept the surrender of the Japanese garrison there.

The statement by the commander of United States forces in China, made at a press conference, followed a Chinese announcement including the former British crown colony among the areas to be occupied by Chinese troops. The announcement said Gen. Chang Fu-kwei had been designated to receive the Japanese surrender.

British authorities in Chungking had declined comment, but a Chinese Army spokesman said that since Hong Kong was in the China theater the high command "naturally had assumed responsibility to accept the Japanese surrender there."

The surrender situation was further complicated today with the official Chinese announcement that Generals Chang Chi-chung and Hsiung Shih-hui, both high in the councils of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, had been appointed "to accept the Japanese surrender in Manchuria."

No explanation was given as to how this would be affected considering the fact the Japanese armies in Manchuria are surrendering piecemeal to the Russians.

REFUSED FOOD IN DINING ROOM

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—Four members of an Arkansas farm family who couldn't obtain dinner service in one of Washington's costlier hotels were welcome at the White House today.

They were Staff Sgt. James Hendrix, Jr., 20, his father and mother, and his cousin, Mrs. Andrew Waldo, all of Lepanto Ark. They were bid to the White House so that the sergeant along with 27 other army heroes, could receive the Congressional Medal of Honor from President Truman.

The War Department said in a statement last night it had learned that the Hendrix party was refused dining room service in the Willard hotel Tuesday night, although quartered in a suite there as guests of the government.

James Hendrix, Sr., told a reporter the dining room had empty tables and he guessed his group was not served "just because we didn't have on fine enough clothes." He was in his shirtsleeves, but he said no one mentioned that.

The sergeant, who alone wiped out two Nazi artillery positions and saved three wounded comrades in Germany, was in his uniform.

New York city's Union Square was at one time used as a Potter's Field.

WAR AFFECTS SIXTH OF JAPS

(By The Associated Press) Some 260,000 persons were killed and 412,000 others were injured on the Japanese home islands "as a result of enemy air raids during the course of the war in Greater East Asia," the Tokyo radio said today in a broadcast recorded by the Associated Press.

Altogether, nearly 10,000,000 persons, almost a sixth of the population, suffered directly from the raids, the radio said.

The broadcast, quoting figures thus far available at air defense headquarters, said the two atom bombs dropped on the homeland killed 90,000 and injured 180,000.

The total killed was set at 260,000; injured, 412,000; rendered homeless, 9,200,000.

The broadcast said 2,200,000 houses were completely demolished or burgled to the ground, and 90,000 were partially damaged.

Britain, which was under Nazi air attack for more than five years, suffered by the last available estimate, 146,760 casualties from bombings and V-weapons. The figures were 60,585 dead and 86,175 wounded as of last April 29. Uncounted thousands of others were made homeless.

Atoms have been talked about since pre-Socratic times.

Today's Talk

GETTING NEXT TO GOD
We have it recorded that God created man in his own image and so, naturally, with characteristics akin to his though without divinity. That means that he is an understanding God, enthusiastic about his most perfect creation. It means, also, that we can approach him—even the humblest of us, with perfect candor and confidence. We can get next to God, walk with him, and talk with him.
But I cannot feel that God wants any of us to come to him as a poor penitent and as a gross sinner. Rather do I believe that he wants us to approach him with an open, hungry heart, seeking hope, comfort and light. He is the giver of all beauty, of goodness, generosity and quick forgiveness. A man is sorry for his wrong doing the moment he expresses the desire to be set right, and I think that God gets that idea very quickly.
God doesn't like to punish his children. He leaves that to them. Self punishment is the greatest of all punishments, and the only kind that is permanent.
Millions of soldier boys have gotten next to God, during this tragic war, and they are going to stay next to him, after they return to the tremendous task of peace and its preservation. They have discovered that God is potent in their lives, and they have determined that this faith in him that they have earned, through right of suffering and discovery, shall not leave them, but be enlarged as they give themselves over to the daily work of the world.
God is always very near to the sorrowful, the disheartened, and to the one broken in body and spirit. Just one glance by such ones, to God at such times, and there is revealed a friend, "who sticketh closer than a brother," and with a brother's love and understanding.
Every east of the eye toward beauty on this earth, every scent of its perfumed garden, every revelation of color and perfection of form that is endlessly distributed before our eyes, no matter where we may be, is getting next to God. And every time that we do a kind and unselfish act, God selects us to be his companion.
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The One Great Heritage."

VETERANS WILL CARRY WEIGHT IN POLITICS

By ARTHUR EDSON
(Substituting for James Marlow)
Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—Politically speaking, 15,000,000 veterans can't be wrong.

That's why Congress will pay particular attention to legislation providing something for the boys, and the girls, when it reconvenes next month.

A survey completed today shows that this is what each veteran organization will urge Congress to adopt:

What They Want
American Legion (1,634,000 members, 525,000 of them veterans of this war):

1. One year of military training.

2. Amendments to the so-called G. I. Bill of Rights. These would include easing the provisions under which loans may be made to veterans, and an increase in subsistence pay.

3. Revision of National Service Life Insurance. The Legion thinks a man who is permanently and totally disabled in service should be able to cash in his insurance. At present, all he gets is his pension.

4. A national policy that veterans should have first chance at jobs.

Veterans' Programs
Veterans of Foreign Wars (1,000,000 members, 600,000 of them veterans of this war, restricted to those who have served overseas):

1. Seniority rights for veterans.

2. Adjusted service compensation, or bonus. The VFW recommends a $3 bonus for each day spent in service at home, $4 for each day in foreign service. Figuring that the average veterans would get $2,100 under this plan, adjusted service compensation would cost an estimated $31,500,000,000. (The World War I bonus figure was $3,758,000,000.)

3. Continuation and expansion of the present plan to provide free hospitalization for all veterans.

4. Compulsory military training.

Disabled American Veterans (90,000 members, 50,000 of them veterans of this war, restricted to those who have been disabled in service):

1. Special benefits for the one soldier in ten who will return disabled.

2. A bonus plan similar to the one recommended by the VFW.

Fishing Boat Is Sunk; Strikes Mine

Philadelphia, Aug. 23 (AP)—A small fishing boat struck a mine in waters off the shore of Fenwick Island, Del., yesterday and sank, the Fourth Naval District announced.

A Coast Guard spokesman said a net the boat was towing may have hooked onto the mine, setting it off. Three men aboard the vessel were rescued by another boat. Their names were not disclosed.

to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, New York.

Miss Ruth Smith, South Washington street, is spending several weeks in West Palm Beach, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Mitchell and daughter, Virginia, left by motor for Schenectady, New York, where they will visit for several days.

Misses Helen Blocher, Marion Bender, Thelma Ross, Grace Hummer, Anna Wible and Elta King are spending the week at Lewes, Delaware.

Doctor and Mrs. Frank Dill and son, George, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, are guests at the home of Doctor and Mrs. M. T. Dill, in Biglerville.

See No Foul Play In Woman's Death

Philadelphia, Aug. 23 (AP)—Police of nearby Lower Merion said today that there was nothing in their investigation to indicate foul play in the death of Mrs. Beatrice Vane Shaw on August 12.

When the body of Mrs. Shaw, daughter of the late William S. Vane and widow of former State Secretary of Health John J. Shaw, was found along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near the Haverford station, it was announced that she had been struck by the Pennsylvania limited.

As preparations began for tomorrow's inquest at the Montgomery county court house in Norristown, it was reported that Mrs. Shaw had been carrying a handbag containing at least $130 when she left home, and the handbag has not been found.

Gebhart, Roger Chrismer and Robert Chrismer visited Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gelwicks in Emmitsburg Monday evening.

NEED WORK FOR ALL TO BLOCK AG. DEPRESSION

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson declared today that full industrial and business employment in the postwar period is essential if another agricultural depression is to be averted.

The secretary made the statement in endorsing the proposed full employment act before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

"The farmers of this country," he said, "have a vital interest in the maintenance of full employment. Our agricultural industry is now geared to produce 30 to 35 per cent more than before the war."

"In the years ahead, when we get through the reconversion period of the next 18 to 20 months, one of the major problems facing this country will be that of providing adequate market outlets for the increased volume of agricultural production."

"The maintenance of full employment will be essential if we are to guard against another period of agricultural depression and low farm income, x x x When urban people have jobs and are making good incomes, they buy more clothes which come from wool and cotton; they eat more fruit, meat and vegetables, drink more milk and even smoke more cigarettes than when they are unemployed or working only part time. The wartime experience of the past few years has given us abundant and convincing proof of this."

Idleness Affects Farmers

Anderson, declaring there is a direct relationship between industrial employment and agricultural prosperity, said:

"When unemployment rose to almost 14,000,000 workers in 1932 and 1933, net farm income dropped to less than $3,000,000,000—the lowest level since farm income records were begun in 1910. When unemployment fell to less than a million persons in 1943, net farm income climbed to $11,000,000,000—a record high."

Anderson said that under full employment—that is, if unemployment does not exceed a minimum of about two million workers, including those on vacation and in process of changing jobs—agriculture might reasonably expect a net income of about nine billion dollars in 1945.

With seven million workers unemployed, he said, the agricultural situation would become serious, with net farm income dropping to about 6.5 billion dollars and farm prices falling well below parity levels.

250 U.S.-Owned Plants 'Surplus'

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The War Department today made public the names of 252 government-owned plants declared surplus by the army and soon to be made available for disposal by the RFC.

The plants, including 220 serving the Army Service Forces and 32 producing for the Air Forces, were built at an estimated cost of $1,494,352,337 and cover 49,478,400 square feet. They range from aircraft plants to those producing tanks, explosives, guns, chemicals, steel, radio and radar, shipbuilding and ammunition.

Machine tools and production equipment of the plants with few exceptions, also will be declared surplus, the department said.

NEW AP HEADS ASSIGNED TO PARIS, BERLIN

New York, Aug. 23 (AP)—Two important executive appointments in the Associated Press' European service were announced today by Kent Cooper, executive director.

Effective Sept. 1, J. Wes Gallagher, now head of the Paris office, where he has been supervising operations in both France and Germany, becomes chief of bureau for Germany.

At the same time Reiman Morin, now assigned to Paris, becomes chief of bureau there, with supervision over news and newsphoto services in France.

Gallagher has been in the forefront of the coverage of the European war almost from the beginning and in virtually all major theaters. He witnessed the German occupation of Denmark, the Balkans, the campaign in Greece and the war in North Africa. He headed the AP field staff covering the sweep across France into Germany. He was born in San Francisco 34 years ago, was educated at the University of San Francisco and Louisiana State university, and joined the AP in 1936 in Buffalo.

Morin's assignments have taken him around the world, and through many of the greatest news stories of several years. He joined the AP staff in Los Angeles in 1934, became chief of its Tokyo bureau in 1937, and reported the earlier phases of the China-Japan war. He has covered World War II in the CBI theater, North Africa, Italy and France. He was at Saigon, French Indo-China at the time of Pearl Harbor, and was interned there for six months, during which time, among other things, he was able to perfect his use of the French language. He also has served as chief of bureau in Cairo, and on the staffs in New York and London.

Morin was born in Freeport, Ill., 38 years ago, and was educated in Pomona college, California, where he won a scholarship for travel in China and Japan. His first newspaper job was on the Shanghai Post.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Aug. 23 (AP)—Although it had been indicated that there would not be much immediate realignment of the schedule of service and other programs inspired by the war, some of them already are beginning to drop off the network list.

For instance, MBS has a couple for omission. Listen to the Waves, Wednesday evening series from the Naval Training Center for Girls at Hunter College, New York, has stopped. Another, Now It Can Be Told, in which behind-the-scenes war stories are dramatized five times a week, concludes with Friday night's broadcast.

ABC, with an hour on Monday nights devoted to two war features, announces these shifts: Tokyo Calling at 10, a musical series in which Japanese propaganda efforts were depicted, is being changed into a different type of musical, Pacific Serenade; Remission USA, at 10, dramatization based on the rehabilitation of returning service men, has been cancelled.

SENATORS COP DOUBLE BILL; DETROIT WINS

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Washington has a decided schedule advantage in the American League race today as the Senators head east only a half game behind Detroit after completing their final western trip.

The Senators have copied 27 of 44 starts on their three jaunts to Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and St. Louis. The Tigers have found the road rough on the Atlantic seaboard where they have captured only 11 of 25 tilts.

Eleven more games with the New York Yankees, who are beginning to show signs of life with Red Ruffing and Charley Keller back in harness, bar the path of Ossie Bleue's men to the flag but Steve O'Neill's Bengals still have 10 more meetings with Cleveland, now strengthened by the return of Bobby Feller. In fact, the Tigers get first hand information on Rapid Robert's condition when he faces them tomorrow night.

Take Doubleheader
The Senators ended their western wanderings yesterday by knocking over Cleveland in both ends of a doubleheader, 3-0 and 6-5 in 11 innings. Roger Wolff, who owned a 4-15 won and lost record in 1944, earned his 15th decision of the year by blanking the Tribe with five blows in the first game.

Dizzy Trout, apparently recovered from his aching back, stopped Philadelphia, 4-1, as the Tigers made it five out of seven over the A's. Connie Mack gambled and lost with a 19-year-old righthander, Bill Connelly, from Alberta, Va., who was making his first start in organized ball.

New York's hopes had a relapse in Chicago where the Yankees blew a three-run lead in the last of the ninth and finally lost to the White Sox in the 11th, 6-5.

The St. Louis Browns finished their stand against the eastern invaders with a fancy 14 out of 20 record but failed to gain appreciably on the leaders. After Bob Mumfry had earned his eighth success in a 4-2 opener, Boston turned around and took a 5-4 evener despite a desperate two-run St. Louis rally in the last of the ninth.

Wilmington whipped Trenton twice last night, 4-3 and 3-0, to move to within two games of Lancaster, Interstate league pace-setters.

Steve Gerkin hurled his third triumph for the Lancaster Red Roses, defeating Allentown Cardinals, 4-1. York's White Roses dropped the 15th straight game, bowing to the Hagerstown Owls, 12-5.

The double win gave the Wilmington Blue Rocks a 4-1 lead in the six-game series with the Spartans. Bill Pless was the winning hurler in the first game and John Norris pitched the full distance for the Rocks in the aftermath.

In defeating York, Hagerstown won its 21st decision in 27 games with the White Roses. The Owls' first sacker, Daneke, led a 19-hit attack with a home run, two doubles and a single.

Tonight's schedule: Trenton at Wilmington; Lancaster at Allentown, and Hagerstown at York.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, Aug. 23 (AP)—Harry Carlson, Colorado U. coach, has written every high school principal in his state asking them to insist that baseball be put on their schools' athletic programs. . . . That sounds like the most constructive step taken since the College Coaches Association was formed, though a committee has already conferred with a big league group to explore the possibilities of keeping college ball players in college. . . . And Ogden's Al Warden, here for the All-American kids game, reports that college ball died out in the mountain district after the first World War and that only five high schools in his state support teams.

Trainer Dwayne (Spike) Dixon, of Marquette U. athletic teams still claims a tree-sitting record of 1,303 hours he established at Champaign, Ill., back in 1930. . . . When Dixon recently learned that the old pine tree in which he had spent so many happy hours was to be cut down to make room for some college buildings, he persuaded the Illinois U. alumni to save him the trunk. . . . Spike plans to use it to build himself a chair.

SHORTS AND SHELLS
In the two years the Football Giants have trained at Bear Mountain, N. Y., only publicist Bill Abbott and trainer "Doc" Sweeney have summoned the strength and courage to walk to the mountain top. . . . "And you'll notice I took my doctor along," comments Bill. . . . Ted Del Guercio, the Newark, N. J., kid who received a reported $19,000 for signing with the Red Sox system, collected 85 bucks more recently when he belted a 400-foot homer for Durham in the Carolina league. The fans passed the hat for that feat. . . . Mexico's Hippodrome de las Americas has boosted purses again and plans to distribute six million pesos to horsemen next winter.

EASY EXPLANATION
When Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth were sparring verbally for the benefit of reporters the other night, Ty remarked: "You remember Babe as a hitter, but he really was a great pitcher, too. I never could hit the Babe." . . . Ruth then came back: "When I was pitching, the only time I knew Ty was not going to hit was when I had him 2 and 0. Then I made sure he hit the dirt."

SERVICE DEPT.
Capt. Floyd Burdette, who managed to play basketball at Oklahoma A. and M. while on duty there for the army, is looking for a coaching job when he gets out. Floyd thinks he could take a college that never has been a court big-timer and put it right up there in four or five years. . . . Sgt. Johnny Sturm, touring the Pacific with a group of big league ball players, writes back from Tinian to his old post at Kearns, Utah: "There were no diamonds here when we arrived; in fact, high army officials didn't even know we were coming. We fellows went to work and now we have two fields and three teams made up of strictly big leaguers."

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)
Utica today had beaten off the latest threat to its Eastern league leadership.
The Blue Sox defeated Scranton 2-1 and 6-1 in a twin bill last night while Wilkes-Barre, which yesterday had pulled within challenging distance of the leaders, fell before Binghamton 7-5. The combination boosted the Blue Sox lead to four and one-half games.
Albany's Fred Clemence rang up his 20th victory as he pitched the Senators to a 7-4 victory over Elmira and Hartford squeezed out a close one from Williamsport 3-2.
At Williamsport, league President Thomas Richardson announced the league playoffs would begin Sept. 11. The winners of four games in the finals will be declared the circuit winner. Opening clashes will be between the first and third and second and fourth place clubs.

Feller Rejoins Tribe; Pleased With His Control

Cleveland, Aug. 23 (AP)—Bob Feller, strikeout king of the major leagues, came back to Cleveland today—back to the scene of some of his greatest pitching triumphs.

The 28-year-old fireballer, released yesterday by the Navy after 44 months' duty, arrived by plane from Chicago with some sad news for American league pennant contenders.

To reporters who met him at the airport Feller said: "I think I'll surprise a lot of fans who expect me to fill the bases with walks. I've been working out every day at Great Lakes and am exceptionally well pleased with my control."

Recalling that the Detroit Tigers defeated him 2 to 0 in the third last game of the 1940 season, the game which clinched the pennant for Detroit and stranded the Indians in second, Bob said, "if I can dump them out of first place tomorrow night it would do me a lot of good."

Feller said he was ready to take his regular turn every fourth day.

Cooper To Hurl In A Few Weeks

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 23 (AP)—"I'll be ready to fog 'em through again by the middle of September."

That was the threat hurled straight from a St. Louis hospital bed to National league batters yesterday by big Mort Cooper, Boston Braves hurler of sore-arm fame.

Cooper, who went to the Braves from the Cardinals last May for a reported $60,000 plus pitcher Charlie "Red" Barrett, is recovering here, following the removal of a bone chip from his expensive—and capricious—pitching elbow.

Dr. Hyland, St. Louis surgeon, said he expected Mort to be able to Phoenixville, Pa., Aug. 23 (AP)—Herb Pennock flexed a few long unused muscles, wound up and pitched—against his Philadelphia Phillies.

The one-time pitching great for the New York Yankees, currently general manager for the Phils, took a turn on the mound for one inning with the Valley Forge General hospital nine yesterday.

The Phillies put together two singles and a wild pitch to score once against Pennock. The Phils won the seven inning game, 4-1.

Forest Grove, Ore., Aug. 23 (AP)—Gene Sheldens, 45, one of the University of Oregon's all-time football greats and former line-coach, was killed near here yesterday when a log rolled from a truck and crushed him at a timbering operation.

Winter Haven, Fla., Aug. 23 (AP)—Lt. Gar Wood, Jr., has announced that he is entering a new, powerful 91-cubic inch hydroplane in the Labor Day regatta here in an effort to break existing world speed records for water craft.

New York, Aug. 23 (AP)—The first Roosevelt memorial two-cent stamp will be sold Friday at the "Little White House" in Warm Springs, Ga., where Franklin Roosevelt fought his battle against infantile paralysis and where he died.

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Veterans Administrator, said Tuesday that many veterans will not be content to return to their prewar jobs. They will prefer, he said, to apply what they learned in the service to qualify for better positions—but whether the so-called full employment bill would be the answer to the problem he declined to say.

Auto Racing—Thrill Show and Grangers Picnic At Williams Grove Park And Speedway

Men and machinery are working around the clock at WILLIAMS GROVE PARK AND SPEEDWAY getting ready for coming events which will wind up a very successful season at the popular amusement center—The Rodeo which closed Sunday, after five outstanding performances, is moving out today, and the speedway is being shaped for Jole Chitwood and His Hell on Wheels Thrill and Crash Show this coming Sunday, August 26th, at 3 P. M. The Great Grangers Picnic, which has been held at Williams Grove for the past seventy-four years, will open Monday, August 27th and continue through Labor Day with six big days and nights of outstanding entertainment—Hundreds of additional concessions, shows and attractions are already moving in for this big event, which has an annual attendance of over 100,000 people—The management will present Eddie Polo, the rocket man, as a free attraction every afternoon and evening, with a mammoth display of fireworks Tuesday night, August 28th and every night except Sunday, winding up on Labor Day night with a spectacle of fireworks designed by the Antonelli Fireworks Company of Rochester, New York, showing the bombing of a city. Admission and parking are free—There is never a dull moment during the Great Grangers Picnic, as the park is alive with Rides, Shows, Concessions and the usual midway attractions. There will be Vaudeville Shows and Movies in the Mt. Vernon Theatre every night, with daily change of program.

The ban on Automobile racing was lifted by ODT, recently, after being closed for more than three years. Roy Richwine, owner and operator of Williams Grove Park and Speedway, has obtained the first Official Sanction from CSRA, as announced recently by Dr. J. K. Bailey, Dayton, Ohio, President of the combined Central and Consolidated States Racing Associations. The first officially recognized and sanctioned Big Car Auto Race in the nation, and perhaps in the entire world, will be held on the Famous Williams Grove Speedway on Sunday, September 9th, with another championship race to follow in two weeks—The Williams Grove oval is recognized by AAA and CSRA as the fastest semi-banked track in the nation, holding in less than three years' operation, four world records. Many of the former Indianapolis stars and championship drivers will compete for more than $4,000.00 prize money at the inaugural race. Jole Chitwood, Ted Horn, Mark Light, Bill Holland, four times AAA Champion, Danny Goss, Otis Stine, Tommy Hinnshertz, Bob Sall, and virtually all the "hot shots" of the Speedway are expected to line up for the "Finals."

Strikes Flare As War Workers Lose Jobs By Cancellation Of Contracts

$55 MILLION TERMINATED; MEN SEEK WORK

Philadelphia, Aug. 23 (AP)—As the number of war workers laid off by contract cancellations increased throughout the nation, strikes continued to flare in this area and crowds continued to jam employment offices.

Nine new war contract terminations amounting to almost $55,000,000 were reported to the securities and exchange commission yesterday, hiking the total to nearly $700,000,000 by the 71 corporations reporting to the SEC.

The four-day strike at the Spicer Manufacturing company in Pottstown, Pa., caused when 14 ex-servicemen were rehired, appeared headed for a showdown today.

Representatives of the state mediation board, Selective Service and the company are scheduled to meet today to iron out difficulties. Company representatives are to meet with delegates from the union, Local 644, United Automobile Workers (CIO) after that meeting.

Seniority Rights
A spokesman for the 257 striking employees said the rehired veterans have low seniority rights. Nearly 1,500 were laid off last week, he said, adding that the strikers would not return "until the recall of employees, including World War two veterans, is made in strict conformity with seniority rights."

John Bohannon, plant manager, said the company acted under Selective Service regulations in rehiring veterans.

A second strike, at the Midvale Steel company's plant at Nicetown, Pa., entered its third day today as the ranks of the workers who left their jobs because of the company's alleged failure to pay them for the two-day victory holiday, Aug. 15 and 16, were increased.

Clerks, cafeteria workers and guards joined in the walkout yesterday.

The company made no statement. A 24-hour strike at the Lester, Pa., plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company ended last yesterday when nearly 7,000 members of Local 107, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO) approved a temporary agreement.

An agreement was worked out, a union member said, to provide for the immediate reinstatement of about 2,000 employees, whose layoff, the union contended, was in violation of the collective bargaining agreement.

Contract cancellations reported to the SEC yesterday included Piper Aircraft corporation, Lock Haven, Pa.

Strike Of 3,000 Workers Is Ended

Pittsburgh, Aug. 23 (AP)—Some 3,000 workers at Pittsburgh plate glass company's Greighton, Pa., plant, who walked out last Friday because a woman worker refused to pay union dues, agreed to return to their jobs today.

The employees voted to return last night after listening to a talk by Leon C. Bouchat, president of Local 12, CIO-Federation of Glass, Ceramic and Silica Sand Workers.

Meanwhile, 800 workers remained away from their jobs at the American Steel Foundries in Verona, Pa., and the Oliver Iron and Steel Corp. closed all but three departments as many of its 1,600 workers quit after CIO-Steelworkers officials protested suspension of an employee for reported insubordination.

Factory Closes; $250,000 Payroll

Beaver, Pa., Aug. 23 (AP)—About 4,000 persons were made jobless when the Curtiss-Wright Corp. shut down its Propeller Division plant yesterday. It had a weekly payroll of $250,000.

A company spokesman said 40 per cent of the employees were women and many of the men came "from other walks of life" to make war goods. He said about 700 men would continue work in the experimental plant here.

W. J. Hooper, labor market analyst for the war manpower commission, said return to the 40-hour week for iron and steel workers would create jobs for some of the estimated 35,000 persons being made idle in the western Pennsylvania area by contract cancellations.

WOMAN'S DOMAIN?
Graham, Ore., Aug. 23 (AP)—Feminine blouses were a dime the proverbial dozen yesterday at the Multnomah county fairgrounds. Five top-honors in the 4-H club food-canning competition went to 17-year-old Bill Gavin. He was promptly named "grand champion of culinary arts."

U. S. CONFIRMS LIBERATION OF 4 TOKYO RAIDERS

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The agonized uncertainty of more than three years was ended today for the families of four Tokyo raiders captured by the Japanese in 1942.

The War department told them yesterday that the men, who fell into enemy hands after the mission led by Jimmy Doolittle, had been freed. A rescue team which parachuted to Peiping, China, found them in a prison camp.

They are Lt. Chase J. Nielsen, Hyrum, Utah; Lt. George Barr, formerly of Queens, N. Y.; Sgt. Jacob D. Deshaizer, formerly of Madras, Ore., and Lt. Robert L. Hite, Earth, Texas.

Still unaccounted for are four other fliers captured on the same mission. They are Lt. William G. Farrow, Washington, D. C.; Lt. Robert J. Meder, Lakewood, Ohio; Lt. Dean E. Hallmark, Dallas, Tex., and Sgt. Harold A. Spatz, Lebo, Kas.

All Are Happy
"Is it really true?" asked flustered Mrs. Nielsen when told by the Associated Press of her son's rescue.

Mrs. William Maas said tearfully "thank God he's safe—we've waited so long for this news" when the AP told her at her home in Milwaukee that Barr, her brother, had been saved.

At Salem, Ore., Mrs. Hulda Andrus, mother of Sergeant Deshaizer, said "it is what I have been praying for all night. It's wonder-

FARM MORTGAGES ARE DECREASING

Harrisburg, Aug. 23 (AP)—Farm mortgages in Pennsylvania have declined steadily since Pearl Harbor and have now reached their lowest total since 1918. Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst said today.

Horst declared there has been a marked shift in the distribution of outstanding mortgage loans, with individuals and commercial banks now holding 81 per cent of the state's grand total of $120,936,000.

Farm land values are at the highest peak since the boom days of 1919 and 1920, Horst added, and are 42 per cent above the 1935-39 average.

Moscow, Aug. 23 (AP)—The President of the Supreme Soviet ratified the United Nations charter Monday night and the government newspaper Izvestia Tuesday acclaimed the action as an important step on the road to maintenance of world peace.

Chungking, Aug. 23 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, American Commander in China, announced Tuesday he had received word from Mukden that all American personnel landing there probably would be interned until the Japanese are given permission by the Russians to allow such landings.

"Is it really true?" asked flustered Mrs. Nielsen when told by the Associated Press of her son's rescue.

At Salem, Ore., Mrs. Hulda Andrus, mother of Sergeant Deshaizer, said "it is what I have been praying for all night. It's wonder-

ENGLAND TO O. K. CHARTER

London, Aug. 23 (AP)—Early and possibly unanimous ratification of the United Nations charter was forecast early today as parliament prepared to resume at 2:15 p. m. (9:15 a. m., EDT) a debate punctuated with solemn warnings of the vast potentialities of the atomic bomb.

Some members advocated international control of the weapon during yesterday's discussion, in which leaders of both major parties had joined in urging Britain to throw her weight into the international organization for the preservation of peace.

Former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, now a member of the opposition in commons, said that if controversies could be solved amicably among nations through a world league, "perhaps we need not worry about the atomic bomb."

Even the few speakers who criticized the world security league plan drawn up at San Francisco gave no indication of an intention to vote against it. Scarcely a voice was raised against the charter, hailed by Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee as a great instrument for world peace.

The daily Herald predicted that "there is every prospect that ratification will be unanimous."

Britain is the last of the Big Five powers to take up ratification. Approval already has been given by the United States, Soviet Russia, China and France, as well as by more than a half dozen smaller nations.

STATE GUARD TO BE GEARED FOR POST-WAR

Harrisburg, Aug. 23 (AP)—The commonwealth is set to tailor its 95 armories to the needs of the post-war national guard as soon as the War department announces the plans and specifications for its peacetime army.

"We don't know yet what we're going to put in them—whether there'll be cavalry, motorized artillery, infantry, or what," said Col.

Frank A. Weber, deputy adjutant general.

Pennsylvania's prewar National Guard units were set up under tables that long since have been revised, and the local armories were fitted to units in accordance with those tables. Many were designed originally for horse cavalry or horse-drawn artillery outfits that have been supplanted by mechanized or motorized units. Consequently, many armories may require extensive remodeling.

New Rationing Of Whisky Set

Harrisburg, Aug. 23 (AP)—The state Liquor Control board said delays in obtaining stock make it necessary to schedule a new whisky rationing period from August 27 through September 22.

The board said stocks were lower than ever because of "unwarranted delay in the approval of whisky orders by the auditor general along with labor and transportation difficulties encountered in several of the large distilling plants."

During the new rationing period the guard's rebirth, Governor Martin has announced.

Until the 28th Division, 104th Cavalry, and other former Pennsylvania National Guard units are released from Federal service the wartime Pennsylvania State Guard is taking their place as the state's militia.

individuals may continue to buy up to one-fifth of rationed whisky, and licensees will be allotted 70 per cent of their normal needs.

TRUMAN KEEPS AFFABILITY AS U. S. PRESIDENT

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—Four months in the White House has not changed Harry S. Truman's attitude toward himself or toward people. Even his participation in another drama of the "Big Three" did not erase the easy affability ingrained in his personality. He finds it difficult to understand, he confided to reporters on the historic voyage of the cruiser Augusta, why folks who took him calmly enough as a Missouri neighbor, as a senator and as a vice president should make such a fuss over him because he happens to be President. The day the President decided to go from Potsdam to Frankfurt to inspect American troops, correspondents had to be up at 5:15 a. m. for the trip from Berlin to Potsdam airport in an army truck and a 268-mile, 90-minute flight to Frankfurt. There they climbed into automobiles for a 49-mile tour. They had to leave their cars a score of times to follow the President on foot as he stopped for a review here, handshakes there and a climb into one armored artillery vehicle. Early Riser, Hard Worker Hardly a day passed that did not find the President strolling about the ship before 7 a. m., an ordinary seaman's cap cocked jauntily on his head. Members of his party knew they would have to be at the table by seven if they wanted to breakfast with him. Immediately after the dishes were cleared away, the President went to work on whatever dispatches required his personal attention. Press Secretary Charles G. Ross once remarked that "the President had a day's work done by 9 o'clock. Mr. Truman still finds it difficult to get used to having secret service agents trail after him. At the same time, he has made close friends of them all, often remarking "they've got their jobs to do." Out of respect to his wishes, his secret service detail is kept to the very minimum. Auction bridge is the offspring of bridge, the grandchild of whist and the father of contract.

JAPS SHOWING REVERENCE FOR EMPEROR - GOD

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
The vast reverence which the Japanese people have for their god-emperor is being demonstrated daily as the Tokyo government proceeds cautiously with the dangerous task of implementing its capitulation to the Allies—dangerous because the militarists are against it, and because the general public is undergoing a terrible shock, having been led to believe that Nippon was winning the war. Now this reverence has nothing to do with Hirohito's capabilities. It would still be there if he were a moron. It rests in the fact that the people believe they are ruled by a divine being—a living god. They've believed it since 660 B.C. when, according to legend, the first emperor ascended the throne. The mikado is the last word in the life of the Jap. Actually Hirohito has been more or less of a figurehead—but even the greatest and most progressive of his subjects approach his presence with diffidence. The Best Answer It's all very well to shout "hang the mikado"—as more than a few are doing—but it would be a perilous experiment to commit such violence on the primitive ideas of Japan. Moreover, there are a lot of Allied folk who believe we should be outraging our own ideals if we struck down the head of a religion. If the people of Japan want to continue the Shinto religion we can't stop them by force. We can't stop them by removing their emperor, because Shinto is bigger than he is. The best answer to all this probably is that if western ideas and ideals are presented to the Japanese people in the most favorable light, we may win them over to our way of thinking. Guam, Aug. 23 (AP)—Rear Adm. Forrest C. Sherman, reporting Tuesday on the Manila pre-occupation conference with Japanese envoys said the Mikado's emissaries had confirmed what the United States Navy had long known—that the Japanese Navy virtually had ceased to exist.

20 Million Bogus Red Stamps Seized

Philadelphia, Aug. 23 (AP)—Office of price administration agents, accompanied by deputies from the U. S. marshal's office, seized more than 20,000,000 bogus red ration coupons yesterday in what they termed "the biggest haul of counterfeit coupons ever made in this area." Philadelphia, Aug. 23 (AP) — A former second lieutenant in the army was placed on probation by Federal Judge Cullen Gancy Tuesday after he admitted that he accepted $3,300 in allotment checks after he was discharged. U. S. Attorney Gerald A. Gleeson said five men were arrested on a charge of possessing counterfeit coupons. Each was held in $10,000 bail for hearing today. The agents said the seizure would clean up the main source of distribution in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

ADVICE ABOUT KEEPING WELL

★ "The man who thinks to conserve his health by uselessness and ease does not differ from him who guards his eyes by not seeing, and his voice by not speaking. . . . Least of all is it to be assumed that laziness is healthful, if it destroys what health aims at; and it is not true that inactive people are more healthy."

This excerpt from Plutarch's essay Advice About Keeping Well, written over 2,000 years ago, might have been written yesterday. Had medicine and pharmacy been as well developed then as they are today, we are certain he would have stressed the value of a periodic physical examination by a qualified physician. WRITERS WRONG ON "INVASION" DATE OF JAPAN

By FRED HAMPSON

(Associated Press War Correspondent substituting for Hal Boyle)

San Francisco (AP)—Entry into Japan Sunday by airborne troops and the following Tuesday by amphibious forces will put us into Japan—as near as most of the war correspondents had it figured—two to four months ahead of schedule.

I left Manila about two months ago along with a lot of other correspondents who thought it was a good time to take home leave, which proves that during the war the best estimates and most careful plans aren't worth the powder in a knee mortar shell.

In mid-June you couldn't have convinced a hundred men in the Philippines that the war was almost over. We weren't even thinking about the end of the war. We were fretting about the invasion date for Japan.

Usually Accurate

The Pacific is full of correspondents who have covered from half a dozen to 20 amphibious landings and they get pretty accurate at guessing an invasion date. And D-Day in Japan did not look very near.

We could see the bases being built on Luzon and Okinawa and elsewhere. Hospital sites, staging areas, airfields, infantry camps. A lot was being done in a hurry but the job was only starting.

We figured D-Day for Japan would be late October or early November and although no official plans had been disclosed, I think we had it pegged within a two-week margin. There was one imponderable which, up to that time, we had never worried too much about in the Pacific—weather. We were getting up to where the winters are cold and stormy and weather might have delayed the show considerably. Some of the boys even figured we'd have to wait until spring.

So the correspondents who had leave coming, took it—and arrived home in time to watch from afar the atom bomb, the Russian entry and Japan's surrender.

Urges Calmness To Help Industry

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—To Rep. Rich (R-Pa.) the "worst thing that could happen to business at this time" would be a prolonged session of Congress.

Rich told a reporter that Congress, after it reconvenes September 5, "should pass what laws are immediately necessary and then go home for the rest of the year and let business get its feet on the ground."

Otherwise, the Wollrich wool manufacturer contended, "it would keep the country all stirred up at a time when we need calmness and confidence."

He said he opposed congressional consideration at this time of controversial social legislation, particularly such measures as the so-called "full employment" bill and expanded social security and health benefits.

"Business will have a hard enough time providing jobs," he declared. "If Congress is talking about poppycock laws and cradle-to-grave legislation, it will make conditions worse."

The flag of the Pan-American union is a pennant adopted in 1907 and embodies all of the colors of the 21 republics of the western hemisphere.

Chapter 22

There were times in the ensuing two weeks when Jane wished she might awaken in the morning to find she were twins, even triplets. Yet nothing important was left undone.

Things are running too smoothly, she thought. Men like Lisle Carter don't turn into cooperating angels overnight. He controls enough of the stock to hold us to a stalemate if we try to branch out. And we're going to need to branch out to take care of the tentative orders coming in. He must come out into the open soon.

One evening, as they were preparing dinner Evelyn timidly approached her. "There's something I want to ask you, Jane. It's about my inheritance. Roy made some investments. The administrator says he has received a marvelous offer for them and that it would be better for me to sell now, while values are at their peak."

"What are they? And why, if they are bringing such a fabulous offer now, shouldn't you hold them, and reap profits from them?"

"The administrator said they'd be dropping to the bottom soon."

"But what are they?"

"I don't know. When he read Roy's will, he just mentioned something like a 'block of diverse items' valued at so much—"

"Haven't you seen a copy of the will, haven't you one?"

"He said he'd have one made up for me, but the girls in his office have been so busy I haven't wanted to insist."

Jane stared at her a moment and then laughed. "I'm getting to be a most suspicious person. Before you agree to selling anything, he'll come self down to the courthouse and read Roy's will from cover to cover, learn everything there is in it—or better, hire an attorney you can trust to do it for you."

Evelyn thought this over, then shook her head. "I'd rather wait. Questioning the administrator would be questioning Roy's judgment."

Jane shrugged. "Administrators have been known to make mistakes of judgment. Oh well, here, this chicken at least looks cooked."

Another week of quiet "business as usual" passed. Jane sat at Mark Sheridan's desk and held off the insistent voices that came across telephone wires. Supplies, she explained, had been detailed to allow a troop train passage. Oh, yes, indeed, they were on hand now, and delivery of pumps could be expected within a few days.

Guffey wired; he also wrote. He had pooled the Sheridan order with a trainload of government supplies moving west. The order could be expected in record time.

Jane drove down to the Athletic club to talk to Sheridan, he having given up the open-doored hospitality of a hospital for a place comparatively safe from feminine invasion.

"Just assure me that the firm's income can be used, immediately and without the confirmation of the board, on the outlay, and I may be able to sleep nights instead of planning bank robberies."

"All income from our pumps goes directly to the firm and can be dispersed without too much interference. We have a public accountant who goes over our accounts every sixty days, and his signature is necessary on any bill over five hundred dollars."

"Has he ever questioned any bill?"

"He hasn't thus far," frowned Sheridan.

He hadn't thus far, but he did the next day.

Jane had been aware of a fussy little man in a suit and pepper suit darting in and out of the bookkeeper's office. And she had seen old Mr. Langley, the bookkeeper, wandering in and out after him.

They came into Sheridan's office together at five o'clock, Langley introducing the little man as "Mister Chaffrey."

"Too much sail," he began; "you're carrying too much sail. Won't do; won't do at all. Look here, one thousand dollars advanced to the J. C.—"

"That one thousand, Mr. Chaffrey, has been paid, as you'll notice. You'll also notice the notation both on the canceled bill and on the books stating the source of payment was a personal emergency fund provided by Mr. Sheridan."

"No provision made for personal funds. No business—"

"Mr. Chaffrey, do our books show any discrepancies?"

"At present, no. I can't find any particular—But too much sail, Miss—Miss Grey, swamps the craft. Now here is an invoice on cast iron en route from New York. There is no provision made to meet—"

"You'll pardon me, Mr. Chaffrey," Jane smiled at the man. "I hadn't realized you were here in the capacity of an administrator."

"I'll have to refuse my signature on other bills due now until you prove you can meet payment on this Guffey invoice."

Jane moved toward the door. "If you were as assiduous at studying the terms of the Guffey account as you are at obeying Mr. Carter's injunctions, you would notice no date of payment is mentioned."

"However, to ease your professional conscience, Mr. Chaffrey, I'll call in a C.P.A. tomorrow, at my own expense."

Chapter 23

Chaffrey scuttled out, and Langley, after a long, slow wink at Jane, ambled after.

Jane put in a call to Mark Sheridan. She talked earnestly for a few moments, hung up, made two more calls, then waited for the accountant to take his busybody self out of the building and rang for the bookkeeper.

Jane studied the old man a minute, then dropped her gaze to the desk, fingering a pencil. When she looked up again she found the bookkeeper surveying her with a paternal smile.

"Mark Sheridan says you can be trusted implicitly, Mr. Langley."

Langley gave a funny little old-fashioned bow and waited.

"We, Mr. Sheridan and I, want you to help us do something that may seem irregular to you. I'll take the responsibility, and I'll be working under Mr. Sheridan's orders."

"We want you to gather the books of the Sheridan Pump Company together in such form they can be smuggled out of here immediately after office hours."

The man's eyes widened. Miss Grey, I assume we are taking these books to a place where a C.P.A. can work unobserved?"

"You are a gentleman of discernment, Mr. Langley," Jane said, laughing. "You understand, of course, that we are not questioning the condition of your books."

"Yes, indeed. If I may make a deduction, I would say you and Mr. Sheridan are taking this method of securing a C.P.A.'s affidavit on the condition of the company, as of this date."

Jane stood up. "I'm glad you're on our side, Mr. Langley."

The C.P.A. arrived at seven with his own secretary. Supplemented by Miss James and Miss Grey, Mr. Langley felt completely efficient, almost anticipating the man's needs. It was three o'clock when the C.P.A. left, taking the books with him.

Mr. Langley left soon afterward, a little apprehensive. Yet no sooner had he appeared at the office the following morning than a special messenger arrived, and could that have been a private detective in the car with him? Mr. Langley didn't know. Mr. Langley didn't take time to investigate further; he was too busy putting his precious books back in their accustomed places.

Mr. Langley hadn't had time to ascertain whether or not the man with the messenger was a detective, but he had time really to scrutinize the man who came into the building shortly before one o'clock.

"A process server if I ever saw one," he murmured, and he watched anxiously, hoping Miss Grey would take him into his confidence.

When his buzzer sounded, he set out for the other office at such a lope the girls, just leaving for their Saturday afternoon holiday, gazed in amazement.

"Here it is," cried Jane joyfully, as she waved a legal looking document before his nose. "You'll have yours in a moment."

"See, the men are in there now."

"But—but what for?"

"Our books are bound over to Civil Court until this plea for an injunction is heard."

Mr. Langley, readjusted his bifocals and frowned at the document; laboriously he studied the phrasing. "To show cause why an injunction should not be issued against the Sheridan Pump Company—Miss Grey, could you explain the rest of this and what it means?"

"It means Mr. Carter, as a stockholder, together with the other holders he controls, is tired of trying to gain control of the company via the stockholder route. He has gone to court with his plea that a reorganization of the company be ordered."

"He had been much too quiet the past few weeks. I couldn't believe he was whipped. I kept watching every corner and having nightmares because I feared I'd overlooked some possible method he might use to best us."

"Yesterday—well, call it woman's intuition, but I felt something more than personal hostility prompted Mr. Chaffrey's attitude. I believe he is an excellent accountant and quite honorable."

"He is, indeed, Miss Grey."

"When Mr. Chaffrey became alarmed at the idea of a C.P.A. being called in," she resumed, "I became suspicious. It means one of two things: either he was planning some unethical act or had been told to avoid forcing an issue with me; particularly one which might cause me to call for outside assistance."

"I couldn't conceive of the first alternative, so accepted the second and acted accordingly."

"The court order to pick up the company books following immediately upon the injunction would not have given us time to learn what, if anything, had been done to those books."

"Mr. Sheridan sent for the attorney last night, after talking long distance. It seems if we could file the C.P.A.'s report, immediately after being notified of the plea for injunction, we could prove no attempt had been made to change the records. Naturally, we couldn't file until such a plea had been established. As the county courthouse closes at one o'clock on Saturdays, they had to remain there to get under the line." Mr. Carter planned his timing to forestall any such defensive actions."

"And you, a young woman, thought all this out?"

"Goodness no, Mr. Langley. I merely became suspicious, relayed my suspicions to Mr. Sheridan and asked permission to hire the C.P.A."

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent urination, backache, and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Twin Falls, Ida., (AP)—Police Chief Howard Gillette thought he'd uncovered a daring enemy plot when, prior to the war's end, his police radio started giving out with American music and mysterious Jap language radio signals. The FBI nipped Gillette's Sherlock Holmes-ing in the bud, however, with this answer to the riddle: He had been picking up harmonies

I had a feeling his certified report of our condition was vitally important."

"And it was," breather Mr. Langley.

"It will save time, and time is important. If we can keep on operating without awaiting a long legal battle—"

Evelyn came in, flushed and triumphant. "We filed," she said. "We had only one minute to go, but the affidavit and report are all in and the time established."

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

By RUSSELL BRINES
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

Manila (AP)—Along a highway leading to a mountain battlefield I recently met husky Lt. Col. Frank W. (Yank) Murphy, former football coach now commanding a regimental combat team.

Murphy, who is from 210 Market street, Scottsdale, Pa., wouldn't talk much about anything except the good job being done by the boys under him in the mud and fog, butting against strong Japanese ridge positions.

So someone else told about the day he accompanied a forward patrol which was pinned down by Japanese machine gun fire. As they hugged the dirt, the boy next to him was wounded. Col. Murphy slung him on his back and crawled through whistling bullets to an aid station.

Finished Ride in Tank

Another time he bounced along the highway in his jeep to contact officers of guerrilla forces farther northward. The trip was uneventful and, having finished conversations, he started back in his jeep. Then infiltrating Japanese snipers started firing from ridges overlooking the highway. Col. Murphy halted a passing tank and impudently finished the trip back to his command post.

The boys recall that Sgt. Ilya Gigovich of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a handy man with a light machine gun, held off 22 Japanese in one of the tough skirmishes fought by the 32nd Division along Villa Verde trail. But Gigovich spends most of his time during conversations with visitors apologizing for being a sergeant who "can't spik English." Gigovich is a Yugoslavian. His brother, Rade, fought with Marshal Tito's forces. Ilya lived in the United States for many years and served overseas for 22 months. After the war he wants to return to America where you "earn plenty bucks, not like Europe."

(Add appropriate names: The air liaison officer of fifth airforce is Capt. Angel J. Angel, 4155 Shaw Ave., St. Louis, Mo. His job is to direct support aircraft into their targets, by radio from the ground. "A grounded angel," he notes.)

visions in the Pacific want one assignment above all others. It is Wake Island.

All want to be the first to re-occupy the tiny outpost where a handful of Leathernecks fought valiantly and well against enormous odds. They want to see Old Glory flying over the white coral sand again.

Commanders of all six Marine divisions have made formal requests to be allowed to restore Wake as an American possession. The Japanese are going to leave Wake for sure, but when is the question. It couldn't be answered today.

Japs Paid Heavily

The enemy paid heavily to capture three little islets named Wake, Wilkes and Peale—the Wake group—which ranked far above their size in military importance. They never stopped paying for it. Long range bombers, carrier planes and fleet guns bombarded them throughout the war.

Wake, however, is more than a convenient stopping place for trans-Pacific planes—2,000 miles from Honolulu; 1,000 beyond Midway; 2,650 from Manila. Especially to men of the Marine Corps, it has become a symbol of fighting courage.

So well did the American garrison of 517 fight that the angry Japanese asserted there were at least 4,000 troops ashore.

Many Were Killed

There were 379 officers and men of the First Marine Defense Battalion, commanded by Maj. J. S. P. Devereaux; a Navy medical group of seven; an Army Signal detachment of six; Navy shore-based personnel totaling 64; 12 officers and enlisted pilots of Marine Fighter Squadron 211, and ground crews with 49 men.

In addition, 70 Pan-American Airways employees and 1,200 civilians working under contract on a channel were on Wake the morning of December 8, 1941 (Wake time), when the Japanese struck.

Many were killed in the first five hours, in which 24 Japanese bombers dropped 100 hundred-pound bombs. More perished in the daily air attacks and later naval bombardments which the Japanese unleashed on the stubborn garrison.

New Oxford

New Oxford—James, Jr., seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Myers, has been suffering with a severe cut on his hand which was sustained in a fall during the week. The services of a physician were required. The Myers family with Mr. Myers' mother, Mrs. Lucy Myers, recently returned from a trip to the Valley Forge Veterans' hospital to visit his sister, Lt. Ivy R. Myers, ANC, stationed there.

Mrs. Leon McSherry has been a patient at the Hanover hospital.

Ralph Kopman has received word his son, Ralph, Jr., USMC, who sustained a serious leg injury during the battle of Okinawa, is now a patient at the Quantico Naval hospital, Va.

Nita Lea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McClain, Jr., Washington, D. C., spent the past week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ballew, near town.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moul, near here, had as recent guests their son-in-law and daughter, the Rev. and Mrs. Irvin Rudisill, and daughter, Virginia, Myerstown.

Arrangements are being completed by the local Garden club for the flower show to take place Saturday afternoon at the Swain store building from 2 to 9 p. m. Display entrance is open to anyone in the New Oxford section, but all displays must be at the store room by 10 a. m. on the day of the exhibit. Ribbons will be the awards for the three best arrangement in these classes: Gladioli, dahlia, zinnia, scabiosa, marigold, petunia, miniature, miscellaneous, and edible fruits and vegetables from victory gardens.

A meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the local fire company took place at the engine house last Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Colestock have returned from a trip to Nlagara Falls, N. Y., where they visited the Rev. and Mrs. Blake Hammond. Fred K. Klunk is reported ill at his home.

Sgt. William H. Clark, Jr., with his mother and sister, Doreene, have returned from a trip to Asbury Park, N. J.

Pvt. Ethel Alwine, WAC, stationed in Massachusetts, has been on furlough at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Alwine, where her sister, Miss Anna C. Alwine, has also been on vacation from the nurses' training school at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. David Alwine has returned from North Carolina where her soldier husband has been quite ill at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

252 WAR PLANTS AVAILABLE FOR CIVILIAN USE

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—The army offered 252 war plants to industry today. Those plants could make a lot of civilian goods and plenty of civilian jobs.

By declaring the government-owned plants surplus—no longer needed for tanks, radar, airplane engines and shells—the army thus provided a $1,500,000,000 contribution toward the government's goal of full employment.

Under White House pressure for speedy disposal, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation prepared to go all out in pushing their sale or lease to private manufacturers. The $1,500,000,000 figure is what the plants cost to build—they'll undoubtedly go much cheaper.

Remove More Controls

It was the biggest offering to date of potential capacity to fill the country's pent-up demand for goods.

But for the average man and woman, the reconversion spotlight was on transportation. More controls were coming off.

On November 1, it was ruled, stores, laundries and other businesses may make as many deliveries as their trucks can handle with unlimited gasoline.

Thus will end one of the housewife's prime annoyances of war—twice-a-week deliveries of all but the most perishable stuffs, milk every other day, bread three times weekly. Wholesale deliveries will go back to normal too.

And—in time for Labor Day's vacation rush—the ODT told railroads they could restore regular seasonal "holiday" trains to seashore, mountains and resorts.

The excursion trains have been off the tracks since January.

Household Appliances

ODT lifted, also, its ban on trains which run less than 35 per cent full. Some 50 trains may thus be put back. ODT cautioned that some lines simply may not have the cars to spare from hauling soldiers.

There was more good news. Civilians will be able to buy household appliances months sooner, in most cases, than was expected a month ago.

So disclosing, WPB offered a rough time-table:

Electric ranges by December. Some washing machines by January. Electric fans by Christmas. Refrigerators off rationing by mid-October.

Unofficially, production men predicted also that "mountains" of clothing and textiles would start their return to stores in perhaps two months.

Hand-over-fist buying—by housewives long starved of cotton garments, sheets and children's clothes—may delay the effect on some acutely scarce items. But not longer than the end of the year.

Hint Land Boom

But not everything was rosy on the domestic scene:

First, farm leaders and federal officials saw signs of a possible land boom. The rush into agriculture after World War I ruined many vet-

MEN and WOMEN

Now you can buy shoes without shoe stamps from HAINES, THE SHOE WIZARD, starting at once and running through September 29th.

When the ceiling price was put on shoes, we had a tremendous quantity of shoes that we sold for $1.98 and $2.98 and, as we have kept to the letter of the ceiling prices, the same shoes, as to quality, are worth one to two dollars a pair more. If we had been privileged to advance the prices, not a pair of these shoes would be left on our shelf.

Now the OPA has consented to allow us to sell these shoes without stamps, so here's your great opportunity to buy shoes that are worth one and two dollars a pair more and, remember, without stamps.

First, come get the shoes. Also listen to me and buy your winter supply of rubbers. We have them now and when winter comes, you will find that you will not get them.

One of HAINES, THE SHOE WIZARD'S stores is in or near your town.

erns and other farm buyers. It pushed prices too high.

Second, OPA said the present skimpy sugar rations will last through 1945. But a Senate group began to plug for smaller shipments overseas.

Third, a Congressional inquiry was threatened—by Representative Brown, (R-Ohio)—if the armed services do not release more doctors to care for civilian ills.

And a full-fledged row between agencies sprang up on this question: Should postwar homes be under price ceilings?

Fearing sky-high prices on the first new homes, OPA says yes. Hugh Potter, the new construction coordinator, says no. A flood of new home building, he holds, would quash any inflation.

Washington, Aug. 23 (AP)—Termination of lend-lease operations was announced officially at the White House Tuesday.

Harrisburg, Aug. 23 (AP)—Fire swept through the State street United Brethren church Tuesday causing damage estimated by Fire Chief Earl W. Swartz at $50,000.

Start Inspection Of Eating Places

Harrisburg, Aug. 23 (AP)—The State Health Department expects to get inspections of eating and drinking places in rural areas started next week, preparatory to putting into effect the Commonwealth's new restaurant hygiene law in November, it was learned Wednesday.

"Some cities and boroughs have already completed their inspections," said Dr. J. Moore Campbell, deputy Secretary of Health, "and we've heard indirectly that some licenses already have been issued."

The new law, approved by the 1945 Legislature, requires every public eating and drinking place, with the exception of railroad dining cars, to have a license costing $1 to continue operating after November 23.

Flashes Of Life

MODERN SPOONING

Penn Yan, N. Y. (AP)—Spoons were mysteriously disappearing from a local ice cream parlor. Investigating, a clerk discovered that bobby-soxers were converting them into bracelets, by a simple bend and twist.

GOBBLER

World, Wyo., Aug. 23 (AP)—Ronald Wickliff, of Billings, Mont., can hardly wait for Thanksgiving—and his impatience is not strictly from hunger.

While he was helping a friend feed some turkeys at the Pat Holsey farm, Wickliff wanted to see if his gold and emerald ring would attract the birds.

He waved it in front of the fowls—and one of them swallowed it.

FROM THE RINDLAND

Holdrege, Neb., Aug. 23 (AP)—German prisoners of war at work here were given their first taste of watermelon. One of them ate his entire piece, rind and all.

SAFE BUT SORRY

Council Bluffs, Ia. (AP)—Albert Lattery, 70, a former professional acrobat, had always done hand-springs without using his hands. Because of his age, he decided it was time to adopt "a safe way" employing hands. He tried it and fractured his hip.

WOMEN PROMISED 11 PAIRS NYLON HOSE PER YEAR

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 23 (AP)—E. I. DuPont de Nemours company, swinging into large scale production, promises nylon-starved American women 11 pairs a year.

It won't be long, DuPont said, until we have what amounts to a nylon world. Through years of experience in putting the strong yarn to military uses, the textile industry has learned many new ways of handling the yarn.

Sheer nettings, which proved an invaluable aid against mosquitoes in the tropics soon will appear in window curtains.

Curtains, dresses, veils and even underwear made of nylon will hold their shape and smoothness through countless launderings, the company added.

Announcing yesterday that plants at Seaford, Del., and Martinsville, Va., have opened capacity production of nylon yarn for civilian use, DuPont said it can produce enough yarn to make 360,000,000 pairs of hosiery a year.
